

Our 'WHY' centres on supporting adults and young people with learning disabilities and autism. Every day that we hear about the abuse of their rights at such a systemic level we are inspired to address the huge task that we all share in health and social care to protect and respect them.

The part that Care Bridge Specialists can play is to offer a transition from the hospital in to the community by specialists who really understand the sensory, perceptual and communication differences of someone on the autism spectrum. We build meaningful connections and share our insights at regular MDT meetings in order to work collaboratively in partnership when it comes to discharge planning. But, we recognise that we are just one solution.

By connecting with Social Workers, Case Managers, Commissioners, Head of Services and Transforming Care Leads we can all work together to keep the conversation open in the small places close to home and in every place in which our lives are touched by the state- at school, in care homes, in hospitals and ATU's.

see life through a
different window
and those who understand their
view".
